Dear Customer,

Summer heat is rolling in and were seeing more and more cars hitting the streets with sound and style! Fabspeed has some great new products available and also our yearly car event is finally here, so get your car polished and ready to come out on July 18th for Cars and Coffee. Details below in the events section or check Fabspeed.com for more Information. Have a safe and happy July 4th.

You already know were always busy working on new projects and redesigning the old ones for more sound options. Like our new redesigned Muffler system for the Cayenne which gives you the option of running straight muffler bypass pipes for a really sporty and aggressive sound. The new 2009 Porsche 997 adjustable dual tone Maxflo Muffler and Dual style tips which we would like to thank you for waiting patiently for are in stock. We also have some other amazing products in stock like the BMW M3 E92 X pipe 2ndary Catbypass pipe which made an astonishing increase in Horsepower and Torque.

Fabspeed has linked up with Evolution Motorsport for all performance engine software upgrades. This allows us to do all ECU tuning in house and enables us to have a hands on mechanical and software understanding of the latest generation high performance engines. Make sure to check out our website for updated product information and videos on the new up and coming products.

Porsche Updates

Porsche 2009 997/ 997 "S" Dual Style Polished and Black Chrome Tips

The new Fabspeed 2009 Porsche 997/ 997 "S" Dual Style Tips are finished and let me say they look unbelievable. They are a direct replacement of the boring factory tips and take only a few minutes to install. Tips are made from T304SS and are available in our high polished mirror shine look and also the new black chrome. The tips fill the bumper outlets better and look more aggressive and sporty.
